

Circle's OCC bank charter approval and Tether's GENIUS Act compliance push are reshaping the U.S. stablecoin landscape as USDC circulation tops $73B.

STABLECOIN NEWS

Circle Gets OCC Bank Charter Approval

Circle can now manage USDC reserves directly as a nationally chartered bank; shares surged as stablecoin competition with Tether intensifies.

CNBC

Tether Faces GENIUS Act Compliance Deadline

USDT's future on U.S. platforms hinges on meeting GENIUS Act requirements before the compliance window closes; offshore USDT currently sits outside the law's reserve rules.

Axios / Fortune

Tether Pushes USAT to Challenge Circle in the US

Tether's Anchorage Digital Bank-issued USAT token, launched to comply with GENIUS Act rules, is ramping up its US market entry against Circle's USDC.

Fortune

ECB Official Warns Stablecoins Could Drain Bank Deposits

A European Central Bank board member flagged deposit-flight risk from stablecoin growth, briefly pressuring Coinbase and Circle shares.

DL News

HACKING & SECURITY INCIDENTS

Triple-A Treasury Drained of $11.8M Across 7 Chains

Singapore stablecoin payments firm Triple-A confirmed a 31-hour treasury wallet breach spanning Ethereum, TRON, Polygon, Arbitrum, Solana, TON and Bitcoin; client funds held in segregated trust accounts were unaffected.

The Coin Republic / Tech Times

AFX Bridge Exploit Drains $24M on Arbitrum

Attackers compromised private keys from five validators to hit quorum and drain USDC from an AFX-powered bridge, converting proceeds to ~12,467 ETH.

CryptoRank

Two Cross-Chain Bridges Hacked in One Day, $31.5M Lost

A single day saw two separate bridge exploits combine for $31.5M in losses, pushing July's total crypto hack tally toward $97M.

Bitcoin Foundation News

H1 2026 Crypto Hacks Hit Record 207 Incidents

TRM Labs reports a record incident count in H1 2026, though total losses fell to $972M; compromised accounts now drive over half of DeFi attacks, overtaking smart contract exploits.

TRM Labs